PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Record says it learned today from "reliable sources" that James J. Walker will resign as mayor of New York within the next few days—before Governor Roosevelt can announce his final decision.

If the mayor resigns, the paper says, he will give as his reason that "under the law it is not possible for him to get the fair hearing which he deserves."

BY FREDERICK A. STORM.
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(UP)—In a relentless cross-examination today, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt tightly linked Mayor James J. Walker's financial activities with those of the missing million-dollar financial agent, and reiterated his declaration, made in the Sheriff T. M. Farley case, that public officials must account for their private incomes.

And for the first time a "woman of mystery," presumably a friend of the New York mayor, involved in a $200,000 transaction with Sherwood, flitted through the testimony like a phantom.

John J. Curtin, Mayor Walker's counsel, boldly demanded the name of the woman, for whom $200,000 worth of Drake shoe stock was purchased by Sherwood, and urged that "this mystery" be stripped away. But former Park Commissioner Walter Herick, the woman's attorney, who was the witness stand at the time, declined to reveal it.

Herick offered to write the name on a slip of paper if the governor would permit it, but the governor, who was incidentally telling him to stand on his rights in a confidential lawyer-client matter.

Admits Connection.
Walker, admitted, under persistent prodding from the governor, and after many interruptions by Judge Samuel Seabury, his "prosecutor," that Sherwood had handled many of his personal financial matters, had kept his check books, and had purchased several letters of credit, one for $50,000, and others for an unnamed person.

Today's testimony, surrounding Seabury's charge that the missing Sherwood's accounts were actually those of the mayor, struck at the heart of the accusations against Walker.

The Hofstadter committee's testimony showed that in less than six years, Sherwood handled approximately $1,000,000, and that at least a part of this money belonged to the mayor. It was Seabury's testimony that Sherwood was, throughout these years, the mayor's financial secretary. Testimony before the legislative committee showed that at no time had

Flying Matrons Pass 24-Hour Flight Mark

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Two young matrons out to break the women's endurance flight record of 122 hours, were aloft in their "flying boudoir" tonight on the second-day stretch of their test.

When they passed the 24-hour mark at 8 p. m. the first Mrs. Frances Marzella and Mrs. Louise Thaden, dropped to 700 feet, circled the field several times and waved to the crowds. They then climbed again to cruising altitude of 1,500 feet.

Their meals are lowered to them in a bucket from the refueling plane.

19 Escaped Prisoners Terrorize Rural Area

GRANITE, Okla., Aug. 15.—(UP)—Nineteen escaped convicts, all heavily armed and desperate, roamed the prairies of southwest Oklahoma tonight, seeking a way through a loose cordon of police and volunteers that had been drawn around them.

They escaped from the Granite state reformatory, where they had been confined with them, were captured, today they terrorized the countryside, stalked highways, and invaded homes.

Two motorists were shot. Others were kidnapped or fired upon.

Tonight farmers sat behind the barred doors of their farm houses, shotguns across their knees. In outlying communities, every house was dark and locked, and volunteers patrolled the streets.

W.C.T.U. Will Support Principles, Not Candidates, Mrs. Boole Decides

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Seattle, rather than candidates, probably will form the basis of any policy the Women's Christian Temperance Union may decide upon, Mrs. Ella A. Boole, of Brooklyn, N. Y., said at the national convention of the organization here today.

PRINCIPAL MARTS RESUME ADVANCE AS SALES SUBSIDE

STOCKS MOST ACTIVE IN RISE, BUT BONDS, COTTON AND WHEAT ALSO PARTICI-PATE IN PRICE GAINS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The stock market today experienced one of the most sweeping upturns of the year, which erased most of the losses of the last half of last week, and carried the general level back close to the peak of summer recovery.

Trading was in small volume, in fact it was the smallest for a full session in nearly a fortnight. But prices snapped back with little effort. Net gains ranged from $1 to $7 a share in prominent issues.

The turnover of 1,905,220 shares was slightly larger than the business transacted in Saturday's half-day session.

Other markets performed more conservatively than stocks, but bonds and the principal commodities were mostly steady to firm. In bonds, several of the low priced railroad issues advanced to new high levels for the recovery, as railroad stocks led the recovery of the share market.

Checking of the recent decline in wheat had a stimulating effect in speculative quarters. That staple, taking its cue from the Liverpool market, advanced about a cent a bushel in Chicago. Cotton in New York was heavily changed during much of the day, but came forward strongly in the final dealings, and closed 80 to 90 cents a bale higher.

Stocks appeared to be influenced primarily by cessation of the selling which had appeared late last week. President Hoover's calling of a conference of leading industrialists and financiers for August 26, however, was stressed in some quarters as potentially constructive.

Reports from the textile and wholesale drygoods industry were cheering, some wholesalers reporting the best business in two years.

Heavy lines of industry, however, remained extremely quiet.

The stock market was not interested in unfavorable news. Reduction of du Pont's annual dividend to $2 from $3 caused only a monetary setback in that issue, and it closed up $2.12 at $34.50.

Chilopape and Ohio, the only major railroad which has not reduced its dividend, is due for dividend action tomorrow, and American Telephone, which thus far has maintained its $9 annual rate, will vote on $5, but there it was still $9.50.

Under its recent high, American Telephone rose $4.75 to close at $107.75; General Electric, $2 to $13.25; General Motors $1.02 to $14.37; International Telephone $1.87 to $11.37; Pennsylvania Railroad $2.87 to $15.02; Southern Pacific $3.12 to $19.25; U. S. Steel, $2.62 to $40.12.

Policeman Suspended On Drinking Charges

MOTORCYCLE Policeman B. O. Carroll was ordered suspended Monday afternoon by Chief T. O. Sturdivant when charges of drunkenness were brought to the attention of the police chief. Sturdivant ordered Carroll to appear before the next meeting of the police committee.

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN.
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—With tears in his eyes, Speaker Garner today put an end to what had been called a "whispering campaign" against him.

"I began voting very early, when I was 10," the Texan replied, with a smile playing on his ruddy face, "and I want to say that I never split a democratic ticket."

"I said in 1928 in two speeches I delivered in behalf of Smith that I believed he was one of the greatest leaders America had ever produced."

"And I still believe that."

"I think Smith would have made one of the greatest presidents this country has ever known."

AGREEMENT MADE FOR UTILITY PROBE IN QUAKER STATE

Governor Pinchot and Republican Leaders
Reach Understanding
on Commission Inquiry.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 15.—(AP) Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania's independent governor, and the state republican organization, for years vigorous opponents in the matter of utility regulation, today appeared to attain full agreement on a complete investigation of the public service commission by the senate.

The inquiry, to be authorized soon after the senate reconvenes tomorrow night, will consider the governor's charges that the commission has been "a cat's paw of the utilities."

Included among specific allegations, which will come within the broad scope of the inquiry approved by Republican leaders, are the governor's charges that W. D. B. Ainer, former chairman of the commission, accepted graft from utilities officials and that ex-Commissioner James S. Benn received a total of $100,000 in salary as a member of the commission.

Ainer resigned two weeks ago as a senate committee prepared to investigate Benn resigned in May, 1931, while confirmation of his reappointment was pending in the senate.

MACKEY NAMED AS ONE PAID BY TRANSIT FIRM

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—(AP) Harry A. Mackey, former mayor of Philadelphia, was named today, Attorney-General William A. Schnader announced, as the "former state and city official" who received $1,000 a month from the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company "while he was on the state pay roll."

Thirty-six members of council signed their names to the resolution before its introduction. Mayor Key said that he would decide within the near future on a date for the meeting, and that it probably will be called for some time within the next few weeks.

The lengthy resolution authorizing the call for the convention asks that those attending the meeting consider

Worst of Depression Is Ended, Harold Hagen Says in Statement

Improved buying in the past 10 days or two weeks and a more cheerful sentiment in business generally, have convinced Harold Hagen, owner of the Pig's Whistle stands, that the business depression has spent itself.

"The advance in the price of foodstuffs and commodities such as cotton and grain is bound to stimulate business," Mr. Hagen said. "I look for a decided improvement before Christmas. I really think the worst of the depression is history."

"The general public has translated its increased optimism into increased buying, a tendency which has been noticeable in the past 10 days or so."

Fire-Proof Trees Seen As Forest Blaze Check

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 15.—(AP) Fireproof trees are the latest possibility in fighting forest fires, says E. A. Smith, state forester.

Informed that experiments in making fire breaks from the wood of red alder trees have been successful in Oregon, Mr. Smith has ordered sufficient seed to grow 50,000 red alder seedlings. The young trees will be distributed to farmers in South Carolina with instructions to plant them in rows as a fire wall between known combustible species.

SUFFERING HEAVILY.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 15.—(AP) The list of those who died in the hurricane over southern coastal Texas lengthened tonight to 30 as a widespread program of relief got well under way.

The injured throughout the storm area, most of whom were persons requiring only first aid treatment, were estimated by persons working at relief stations to number from 200 up and the loss in cotton and rice crops alone was placed at $2,000,000.

GRAVE CRISIS FACES BRITISH COTTON MILLS

BLACKBURN, England, Aug. 15.—(AP)—One of the gravest crises which threatened the British cotton industry confronted Lancashire today with a decision by the central board of the northern counties textile trade federation to withdraw all workers on August 27 unless the present dispute over a new wage agreement is settled.

A general stoppage in the weaving and spinning sections of the trade would affect nearly 500,000 operatives.

The dispute is the bitter culmination of negotiations which have been proceeding since December when the mill owners served notice of their intention to raise wages and hours agreement under which the industry has been operating for a decade.

Luke Bates, secretary, said the federation had no alternative but to recommend withdrawal unless the employees made more reasonable proposals.

5 PERSONS INJURED IN CRASH OF AUTOS

Five persons were slightly injured early Monday night when the speeding car bearing Mrs. Pauline Lindsay, of Center Hill, to Grady hospital for treatment for poison, collided with a machine driven by F. A. Helton, of 1436 Inverness street, at the intersection of Luckie and Forsyth streets, according to police and hospital reports. W. O. Thompson, of Orlando, Fla., a visitor in the Lindsay home, was the driver of the other car. A case of reckless driving was made against him by police.

Those injured were Raymond Lindsay, husband of Mrs. Pauline Lindsay; Mrs. Cleo Lindsay, his mother; Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Helton and Mrs. Pauline Lindsay. According to Mr. Thompson he was bringing Mrs. Lindsay to the hospital from her home in Center Hill after it was discovered she was suffering from a dose of poison. His car struck Mr. Helton's machine and overturned it. Both machines were badly damaged. Mrs. Lindsay was treated at Grady and dismissed.

EDWARDS WORKERS WILL GATHER HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A meeting of the "Hell Bent" Edwards-for-Governor Club of Fulton county will be held on the roof of the Ansley hotel at 8 o'clock Wednesday night when final arrangements will be made for Edwards' speaking appearance here in the city auditorium on the night of August 25.

"At the big meeting in the auditorium," O'Glenn Ray, general chairman of the club, said Monday, "Mr. Edwards will bring to Atlanta his famous grifter's Bible and tell the people about the real issues in the governor's race."

Edwards, speaking at Statesville Monday, said: "There is going to be a runoff in this race and it is going to be between H. B. Edwards and Eugene Talmadge or H. B. Edwards and John Holder. Hardwick will be at exactly the foot of the list unless he is crowded out by John Kelley. Hardwick has a little advantage over Kelley. Kelley has only one home county to lose and Hardwick has about five home counties. He will probably lose four and possibly five of them."

Voters of the second ward were invited Monday by B. R. Henson to attend a meeting of the ward Edwards' club at Idle Hour park, near Georgia avenue and Crew street, tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

HARDWICK'S OFFICES OPENED IN ATLANTA

Campaign Manager Will Divide Time Between Here and Augusta.

Atlanta campaign headquarters for Thomas W. Hardwick, candidate for governor, were opened Monday in rooms 530-532 Piedmont hotel, and will henceforth supplement the work of the Augusta headquarters, which has been running since Mr. Hardwick entered the race.

I. S. Peebles Jr., prominent Augusta lawyer and manager of the Hardwick campaign, was in Atlanta Monday for the opening of the Atlanta headquarters, and will be here Tuesday. He announced that his time would be divided between Atlanta and Augusta from now until the primary on September 14.

Summarizing the campaign to date, Mr. Peebles gave out the following: "Mr. Hardwick has taken his platform and candidacy to the people in more than 30 speeches all over the state and has reached many thousands in two radio speeches. He has everywhere spoken, on the stump, to large and attentive audiences who have manifested their serious concern over the condition of affairs in our state government, and have indicated unmistakably their approval of the plan he proposes to pay the unpaid balances due the schools, to keep the schools running, and to provide the charitable institutions with the funds they are obliged to have to save them from collapse."

"No candidate for any office in Georgia in the past decade has gained as rapidly as Mr. Hardwick in the past three weeks. That the race for governor is a clean-cut choice between him and Eugene Talmadge is now apparent to everybody. One of the other of these two men will be the next governor of our state. There is a very general and state-wide feeling among thoughtful citizens that Mr. Talmadge would make a dangerous governor, and that Mr. Hardwick is operating, bringing rapidly a consolidation in support of Mr. Hardwick as the strongest opposing candidate.

"There was never a time since the days of reconstruction when our state has stood in greater need of men of brains, experience and backbone in public office. No man in Georgia public life possesses those qualities in higher degree than Thomas W. Hardwick. That is why his strength is growing so rapidly, and that fact will make him the next governor."

Russell Supporters In Charge of Office

Representative George A. Eckford, of Fulton, will have charge of the Russell Fulton county men's headquarters at the Ansley hotel today, Frank Kempton, publicity manager, announced Monday.

Wednesday John F. Scott will be in charge, Thursday Earl Carman, Friday Marvin G. Russell and Saturday Ben T. Hoyt. The friends of Governor Russell are invited to drop in and be enrolled as members of the Fulton county club.

BURCH STRESSES IMPORTANT PARTS OF HIS PROGRAM

CLARKESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 15.—R. F. Burch Jr., of Eastman, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, spoke here today at the opening session of court to a large audience of citizens of the county and visitors from adjacent counties.

Burch spoke in a straightforward way, and in the course of his talk stressed two important parts of his program: "If I realize that no one man can offer or put into effect a panacea that will bring relief either to a state or a nation," said the speaker, "this can be accomplished only through the combined courage, energy and industry of every citizen. But in all efforts toward rehabilitation of our agricultural affairs, the administration of public office plays an important part, and at times constitutes a controlling factor. The office of commissioner of agriculture is peculiarly identified with the farming industry of the state—the office was created for the benefit of the farmers, and should be administered with that idea in view."

"I feel that my past experience qualifies me for the place to which I aspire. I am an agricultural college graduate, I am the operator of a 40-acre farm, I have had wide experience as a county agent and I have served as sole county commissioner of my home county, Dodge. In the position I save to the taxpayers $80,000 during my term of office and neglected none of the things essential to the forwarding of the interests of the county. I submit that this training of mine will be worth much to me in the administration of the office of commissioner of agriculture."

HARRISON REPLY PROVES CHARGES, BULLARD CLAIMS

Charges made against Comptroller General William B. Harrison have been proven by Harrison's reply, B. M. Bullard, opposing Harrison's re-nomination, said Monday.

"In an attempt to reply to my charges of malfeasance in office, W. B. Harrison, incumbent comptroller general, in statements in Sunday newspapers, merely proves my charges. I charged that Lewis A. Irons, deputy insurance commissioner, drew $74 a month from the Bankers' Health and Life Insurance Company, of Macon. Harrison quotes a letter from the president of that company, in which the president admits he employed Irons after Irons was on the state payroll."

"There was no conflict in duties," the president of the company said. "He also said he employed Irons with Harrison's approval. If there is no conflict in duties where a man is on the state payroll at Atlanta and also working on a job for an insurance company in Macon, then all the state employees might as well augment their income by obtaining situations with private firms."

"Also Harrison never has replied to my charge that he obtained his election at the Macon convention by manipulation under the direction of J. D. Wilhoit and that he later rewarded Wilhoit by employing him in a suit against an insurance company in which the court allowed Wilhoit and other lawyers $7,500 in fees."

HARDWICK'S PLAN FOR LINKING FUNDS SCORED BY HOLDER

Branding Thomas W. Hardwick's proposal to pay all state revenues directly into the state treasury as "the most dangerous and most iniquitous ever presented since the days of reconstruction," John N. Holder, opponent of Hardwick in the gubernatorial race, predicted that it would be repudiated at the polls.

"It was with genuine surprise," Holder said, "that I read of Hardwick's plan and it was only after he had reiterated it on the stump dozens of times that I really believed he would propose such a monstrous scheme. To give him credit, I always thought he had more intelligence than he has shown in the advocacy of this menacing proposition. I believe, firmly, that he knows better than this but is serving some special interest and endeavoring to foist it on the people."

Turning his guns on Eugene Talmadge, Holder said: "One of the candidates who has slung mud at me from the start is Eugene Talmadge. I have never said that he is temperamentally unfit to hold even his present job, much less governor. I have never accused him of being a cheap demagogue and a man without any and of high principles. But this has been done by other candidates who have exposed his record."

ABIT NIX IS BACK IN NORTH GEORGIA TO REOPEN BATTLE

MONROE, Ga., Aug. 15.—Completing what he termed as a "most successful tour" of south Georgia last week, Abit Nix, candidate for governor, brought his campaign back into his home territory today with a speech here.

Saying that he was interested in the child living on the highways, getting that child into school and protecting it from disease, Nix added: "The professional politician will take that child and warp, ignorant mind and frail body and capture his prejudices for the benefit of the politician himself."

ANGLO-U. S. PACT ON ARMS IS SEEN

Conferences Planned in Effort To Save Hoover's Reduction Plea.

BY HERBERT MOORE.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—(UP)—The United States and Great Britain are expected to begin negotiations shortly to "bridge the Atlantic" with a new agreement on naval disarmament.

Hugh Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium and chief of the United States delegation at the Geneva arms conference, will bear the burden of negotiations for Washington. Conversations will be in London and Washington, it was understood.

Without an agreement on naval forces, the plan of President Hoover for an all-around reduction of about one-third in land, sea and air arms would be doomed to failure.

While it is not exactly true that the British foreign secretary, Sir John Simon, already has "torpedoed" the Hoover proposals, his opposition to the naval clauses is undisputed. Furthermore, Britain has launched counter proposals which widened the differences between the two nations and showed the entire plan cannot be accepted in its present form.

The forthcoming negotiations will be an effort to reach a compromise and to advance preparations for the next phase of the world disarmament conference.

Britain appears to be the pivot in the next step, prior to the reconvening of the disarmament conference steering committee in September. But Japan and France also offer opposition to the American proposals.

Gershwin Tune Makes Bow Tonight At Concert Devoted to His Works

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Despite the chronology, George Gershwin calls his new "Rhapsody" an older brother to his 8-year-old "Rhapsody in Blue."

He wrote it and orchestrated it in three weeks and it will be played for the first time tomorrow night at the stadium, when the composer will receive the signal distinction—for a living man—of an entire concert devoted to his works by the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra.

"Rhapsody" will not be a bigger brother to the "Rhapsody in Blue," because it is not as long, but it will be older because it will be more experienced and have many elements that were not in "Rhapsody in Blue." Conceived as a matter of gratitude—"I thought the least I could do for a whole concert was to provide something new"—the piece will be the most modern of all his work.

He got the idea on La Fita street in Havana, where native musicians play for the patrons of little street cafes. It is called a symphonic overture and scored for full orchestra augmented by native instruments, such as the maracas (a kind of Cuban rattle), Cuban sticks, the gourd and the bongo, which is a double tom-tom.

Playing time is about nine minutes.

DRYS FAIL TO NAME OPPONENT OF WILCOX

MELBOURNE, Fla., Aug. 15.—(AP) Drays of the fourth congressional district, meeting here today, failed to take action on suggestions that a dry candidate be selected to oppose Mark Wilcox, democratic nominee for congress, in the November general elections. Wilcox was nominated on a platform calling for outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

Plans were started at today's meeting for a state-wide association to support the eighteenth amendment, and for a series of meetings over the state to create enthusiasm for the movement.

Alleged Forger Held.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Charles C. Moody, 34, said by federal agents to be wanted in New York and Jacksonville, Fla., on charges of forgery, was arrested today as he stepped from his county jail cell. Authorities said he would return to Florida. Moody had completed a sentence here on a similar charge.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

IS SUED FOR $80,000

MACON, Ga., Aug. 15.—(P)—W. T. Darby, textile worker, and his wife have filed suits for damages aggregating $80,000 in United States court here against the Southern Railway Company.

The suits, filed by Mr. and Mrs. Darby for themselves and three children, all of whom were injured in a grade crossing accident at Zebulon last April 14, were transferred to federal court from the superior court of Pike county. The petition alleged that the train which struck the Darby automobile gave no signal of its approach to the crossing.

The troop arrived here May 28. It is due at Fort Oglethorpe August 28.

MRS. L. E. SWIFT DIES IN COLUMBUS

Pioneer Citizen Succumbs at 81 After Several Weeks' Illness.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Leona Epping Swift, beloved Columbus woman and member of a family whose members have been intimately connected with the cultural, social and business life of the city since its pioneer days, died at her home in Columbus Monday morning at 7 o'clock. Death came following an illness which confined her to her home for several weeks. She was 81 years of age.

Her daughter, wife and mother, Mrs. Swift exemplified the highest type of southern womanhood. Gentle and retiring, with ideals of the highest and mind always alert and keen, her life was one of beauty. Her passing will remove from Columbus a dearly beloved and cherished lady.

Mrs. Swift was born in Columbus on December 25, 1850, the daughter of Henry H. Epping, prominent banker, and Isabella Robertson Epping. On October 8, 1870, she was married to George P. Swift, who was a member of the firm of Swift, Murphy & Company, warehouse, organized one of Columbus' earliest and most profitable industries. Mr. Swift married in 1887. Shortly after their marriage Mr. Swift built the beautiful home on the corner of Twelfth street and Second avenue, which Mrs. Swift occupied for 48 years, moving from it to Wyannton two months ago when it was purchased by the government for the site of the new post office.

Mrs. Swift has been a devoted member of Trinity Episcopal church since her earliest childhood, and has contributed liberally to its support.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Roff Sims, of Atlanta, and Mrs. R. E. Dismukes, of Columbus; three sons, Herman H. Swift, Clifford J. Swift and George P. Swift; seven grandchildren, Roff Sims Jr., of Atlanta; Robert Dismukes, Clifford Swift Jr., Henry and John Swift, Helen Swift and George Swift Jr.; a sister-in-law, Mrs. J. P. Kyle; two brothers-in-law, John F. Flournoy and Edward W. Swift, and the following nieces and nephews, Mrs. George S. Hamberger, Mrs. Edith Kyle Harrison, Mrs. Richard Spencer, George Kyle, Edward W. Swift, William Swift, Mrs. Hal Portman, of Rogersville, Tenn., who arrived several days ago, and Frank Flournoy, of New Orleans.

The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from Trinity Episcopal church. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, former rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church in Atlanta, will conduct the service. The interment will be in the family burial lot at Linwood cemetery.

The pallbearers will be: Active, Lloyd Bowers, Lemuel Hill, Henry Burrus, Harry L. Williams, Elliott Waddell and L. C. Slade.

Honorary: J. W. Woodruff, E. C. Mayo, John Hilges, L. W. McPherson, W. C. Bradley, D. A. Turner, Dr. Amory Dexter, R. C. Jordan, Josiah Flournoy.

Fugitive From Georgia, Penniless, Surrenders

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 15.—(P)—A man giving his name as Posey Abernathy, 21, surrendered to Marshal Paul Guler of New Lebanon today and said he was an escaped convict from the Georgia prison farm.

He told Guler he escaped September 1, 1931, after he had served seven years of a 20-year term for the slaying of George Seitz at Moultrie, Ga. Failure to find work prompted him to surrender, he said.

The marshal said he would hold the man pending word from Georgia authorities.

SHEPPARD CHOICE DRAWS PROTESTS

Opposition Based on Promise of Mitchell of
No Recess Selection.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The department of justice announced today that it had received several protests from Georgia against the naming by President Hoover of Walter W. Sheppard, of Savannah, as United States district attorney of southern Georgia.

It is understood that the protests were based on the fact that Attorney General Mitchell had promised a delegation of attorneys from the southern part of the state last May that in the event no nomination was sent to the senate while that body was in session there would be no recess appointment.

The protesters are friends of Charles L. Redding, a democrat, who has held the office of district attorney for two terms.

It is not known here just what can be done about the protests at this time, but, of course, if one or both Georgia senators see fit to fight the confirmation of Sheppard when his name is presented to the senate when the body reconvenes next December it is possible that Sheppard's name may not be approved.

Gainesville Group, in Capital Today, Will Ask for New Federal Building

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—A delegation of Gainesville citizens and Congressman John S. Wood left Monday afternoon to appear before a committee in Washington Tuesday to urge the immediate construction of a new federal building for Gainesville. The Gainesville delegation includes Sydney Smith, Owen McDermott, Ed Dunlap, Tom Bell and A. S. Hardy.

The Garner-Wagner emergency relief and construction bill passed by the last congress provided for new public buildings in certain cities and towns if the interdepartmental committee and Secretary of the Treasury Mills agreed that construction funds were available.

As far back as February, 1931, $335,000 was allocated for a new federal building at Gainesville, but the money was not appropriated. But with the Garner-Wagner relief measure now law, it is the purpose of the Gainesville delegation to use an immediate appropriation from the lump sum provided by the relief act.

Maddox, Reed and Harris Called To Conference by President

Three prominent Atlantans will be among leading businessmen in the United States to confer with President Hoover August 23 in a national business conference called Monday by the president.

Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the executive committee, First National Bank of Atlanta, and Benjamin S. Reed, president of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., were notified Monday of their appointment on the national conference, and advised from Washington added that George S. Harris, recently appointed chairman of the sixth federal reserve district economic committee, will be among those attending the business conference.

Mr. Reed promptly wired acceptance of the appointment, and while Mr. Maddox could not be reached, it was understood that he likewise has been officially notified and will accept.

The meeting was called for the purpose of dealing with "specific projects where definite accomplishments in business, agriculture and employment can be attained," and will co-ordinate the mobilization of private and governmental instrumentalities to that end.

Mr. Harris Monday assumed his duties as textile expert of the central cotton distribution office of the American Red Cross in Washington. One of his first acts was to confer with E. E. Creekmore, of New Orleans, general manager of Cotton Stabilization Corporation, and Stanley Reed, general counsel of the federal farm board.

Mr. Harris said Monday that he hoped to award several test contracts for cotton fabric by the end of the week. The first fabric to be required will be prints, ginghams, muslin, outing flannel, shirting and bird's-eye.

Mayor Will Present Plea for Sewer Loan

Mayor James L. Key and officials of the Atlanta city government tonight will plead for a united front in presenting the claims of metropolitan Atlanta for an improved sewer system before a joint meeting of the councils of East Point, College Park and Hapeville.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock in the East Point auditorium, and Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction, and William A. Hansell, assistant chief of construction in charge of sewers, will give estimates of the comparative costs to the three municipalities, the only political subdivisions in the entire affected area, which have not yet given the plan to secure $10,000,000 from federal relief funds their unqualified indorsement.

Cottonseed Now Yields Fine 'Ham' Sandwiches

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 15.—(AP) Even "ham" sandwiches can be made from cotton seed, Professor W. R. Woolrich, of the University of Tennessee's mechanical engineering department, told the Engineers' Club here today.

"Recently I had a delicious ham sandwich which was made from the meat kernel of the seed," Woolrich said in his address. "The bread also was made from the seed."

Woolrich said the University of Tennessee and Texas A. & M. are working on research problems of the seed industry.

Among cotton seed products the speaker listed cosmetics, soaps, artificial silks and leather. He said the hulls are used as a basis for explosives.

LANCASTER TRIAL NEAR JURY STAGE

Final Arguments Begun in Miami; Flyer Lauded and Condemned.

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Captain W. N. Lancaster on trial for the love triangle slaying of Helen Clarke, was alternately denounced today as "an over-careful murderer" and praised as an unselfish noble character in final arguments by the prosecution and defense counsel to the jury who will decide Lancaster's fate.

The arguments were started shortly before noon, when state and defense counsel brought to a close the 12-day procession of witnesses to and from the courtroom and the introduction of highly sensational testimony.

"This man, whose woman (Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller) was stolen by Clarke, planned the whole murder carefully beforehand—but he made it look too good, just as his counsel has done with this case," charged Assistant State Attorney Henry M. Jones.

He pictured Mrs. Keith-Miller, third figure in the queer love triangle, as a woman "weak physically and weak morally," who was protecting one lover, living, because her other lover was dead.

"Lancaster's motive for murder—his planned revenge because Clarke had stolen his woman—is written all through his diary. It shows between every line as Lancaster tells of his mental agony when he learned that Clarke and Mrs. Keith-Miller were engaged."

Defense Counsel James M. Carson praised Lancaster for his unselfishness.

William Newton Lancaster, 4,000 miles from home, penniless, deserted by some but not all of his friends, stands forth," Carson said, "in unselfishness and nobility of character by the brilliance of a gem against the dirt, mud, muck and filth which form the sordid background of this case."

Carson declared the state had presented only circumstantial evidence against the British aviator.

Before the parade of witnesses stopped, Joseph Ince, of Detroit, former flying comrade of Lancaster, testified he had never heard Lancaster threaten Clarke.

Two state witnesses, M. G. Tanciel and J. F. Russell, testified that while they were associated in a western flying venture, Lancaster made such threats.

Tanciel testified the threats were made in the presence of Ince.

Vladimir Virvick and Paul Prufert, former friends of Clarke, testified he feared Lancaster's return from the west when he learned of the new love affair. Clarke expressed his fear, they said, when Lancaster called Mrs. Keith-Miller by long-distance telephone one night. Both she and Clarke talked to Lancaster, they said.

"I am it, he's coming back—I think there will be trouble," Virvick quoted Clarke as saying at conclusion of the call.

"Why does that — have to come back here?" was another statement attributed to Clarke by Prufert.

Negro Slayer Hears Fifth Death Sentence

Tom King, 60-year-old Butts county negro, Monday was sentenced to be electrocuted September 3 for the murder of Jim McNair, deputy sheriff—the fifth time in seven years the negro has been sentenced to die for the same crime. Tom, called by jailers "the model prisoner," is in Fulton tower, where he has been kept since McNair was shot to death in a still raid near Jackson, in 1925. He was sentenced Monday by Judge Odgen Parsons, in Jackson.

King and another negro man were jointly indicted by the Butts county grand jury in 1925. The other negro escaped and has never been heard of since. King was brought to the tower and kept there for the last seven years. He has been sentenced to die February 19, 1926; September 1, 1928; March 18, 1929; March 14, 1930, and September 3, 1932. His case is now under advisement by the governor and the prison commission. Executive clemency is his only hope, it was said.

JOY FLORAL SHOP BOUGHT BY MANAGER

J. C. Anderson, former manager of the Joy Floral Company, at 626 Peachtree street, has bought the business, according to an announcement by the company on Monday.

Mr. Anderson will operate the shop as the Anderson Flower Shop and will maintain the quality of flowers and service. Mr. Anderson has been a florist for 23 years, and came to Atlanta eight years ago from Lebanon, Tenn.

DEKALB AND DECATUR AGREE ON PROTECTION

Full co-operation in working out a plan of fire protection for the unincorporated area of Druid Hills was pledged Monday night to DeKalb County Commissioner C. A. Mathews by members of the Decatur city commission, at a conference in the city hall.

The commission authorized Roy Abernathy, city manager, to confer with Mr. Mathews and work out some plan of protection pending the next session of the legislature, which will be in January, if the people of Georgia ratify a constitutional amendment in November.

The Decatur fire department will answer any call within 500 feet of a

Decatur or Avondale fire hydrant, and collect $50 later from the property owner, the commission directed. It is understood that the Decatur department also will do everything within reason to aid in fighting fire in Druid Hills until some definite plan of protection is worked out.

Mr. Mathews said that he will confer with the Atlanta board of firemasters late this week in regard to obtaining temporary protection for Druid Hills and in an effort to work out a permanent plan.

Residents of Druid Hills who have appealed to Atlanta and Decatur for fire protection will meet again Thursday night at Druid Hills school, on North Decatur road, to form a permanent organization to be known as the Druid Hills Taxpayers' League.

KEITH'S GEORGIA THEATER

The cooking school will be under the personal supervision of MRS. KATE STAFFORD noted home economist and lecturer

A RED-LETTER day in cooking is just around the corner. It's a day which will loom large in your memory for weeks afterward. For it marks the opening of The Constitution's annual FREE Cooking School—the "Happy Kitchen."

We have planned these programs for months—getting seats ready, making arrangements to get together the best foodstuffs and home appliances, ironing out all the detail problems which crop up in arranging a truly great and truly memorable home exposition such as the "Happy Kitchen" is to be.

A home economist who has talked before thousands of housewives, throughout the country, will be in direct charge of all the programs. She is noted for her practical knowledge of the art of cookery, the frills and furbelows as well as everyday roast beef and potatoes. The cooking school won't have a bit of formality in it—you can ask all the questions you want, and the home economist has a world of experience with which to answer them. You'll see all your friends and neighbors there, and we want you to come, too. We invite you to make this YOUR cooking school—and don't miss a single fascinating minute of it.

Remember—the doors open an hour before the Happy Kitchen gets under way. Come early and bring paper and pencil!

The Happy Kitchen shows you the way to real kitchen happiness---and it's all free!

IRISH 'WHITE ARMY' IS BEING ORGANIZED

Challenge to Republican Force Seen in New Volunteer Body.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A new "white" army is being formed in the Irish Free State with the announced purpose of maintaining law and order.

Dr. O'Higgins, president of the volunteer division of the Saorstat Army Comrades' Association, declared today that his organization is neither a menace nor a challenge to the Free State government.

There already are two armies in the Free State—the "green" force of Saorstat regulars and the "red" Irish republican army, which was an illegal organization under the old Cosgrave government. Much interest has been aroused in the new association.

"We only stand between the people and the menace of secret organizations," Dr. O'Higgins said.

"Our division is not a military organization like to precipitate war, and our immediate object is peace. There is no intention to issue arms and there will be no drilling so long as drilling remains illegal in this country. The backbone of the organization consists of course, of men already trained."

Dr. O'Higgins asserted that the people were in a state of depression and demoralization as a result of invisible intimidation, and that they were at the mercy of secret groups.

"Unless some organization attempts to stand between the people and intimidation," he said, "the growth of communist principles in the near future will result in nothing but chaos and anarchy."

The "white" volunteers are accepted as a direct challenge to the Irish republican army, for it is against that army that the charge of intimidation frequently has been flung.

COHEN, JONES CONFER ON RELIEF FUND PLAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Senator John S. Cohen, of Atlanta, arrived in Washington today from New York, and conferred with Jesse Jones, director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, relative to loans contemplated by Georgia under the new relief act. He also visited with Nathan Adams, of Texas, a member of the board of the federal home loan bank system, and urged the establishment of a branch bank in the state. He intends to leave here for Atlanta Wednesday night.

Kill the Cause Of Skin Trouble

This formula for skin disease is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of Ringworm, Athlete's Foot, Eczema, Tetter, Itch and other parasitic skin troubles. The minute it touches the sore spot, you feel a soothing, cooling sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with skin diseases of any kind, get from any druggist a 60c box of Tetterine, and get relief or get your money back.—(adv.)

GOLD STANDARD SEEN AS KEY TO PROSPERITY

WILIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Permanent economic recovery must be sought in a universal return to the international gold standard, said Professor John Henry Williams, of Harvard, and Dr. T. E. Gregory, of the London School of Economics at the Institute of Politics today.

Professor Williams said suspension of the standard has "provided a fertile field for the growth of nationalistic commercial policies, including prohibitive tariff barriers raised against the influx of goods from depreciated currency countries, and foreign exchange restrictions ruinous to world trade."

If war debts are reduced "and some of the abnormalities of international trade thereby removed," he declared, leading central banks of the world should be able through "intelligent co-operation" to establish and maintain a stable monetary standard.

HEALTH BAN LIFTED FOR 'BLUE SHIRTS' MEET

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Prospects for a much smaller attendance at the jobs-liberty party's national convention than was predicted earlier by leaders of the group, tonight had caused state and county health officials to suspend, at least temporarily, their plans for injunction proceedings to prevent the gathering because of inadequate sanitary facilities.

Meanwhile, approximately 100 delegates had arrived for the convention, which is to open Wednesday at the Creve Coeur Lake speedway, 15 miles west of St. Louis.

About half of those who arrived wore blue shirts and overseas caps, which are the insignia of the jobs-liberty party headed by the Rev. James R. Cox, Catholic priest of Pittsburgh, who is en route to St. Louis with approximately 500 of his followers.

DICK REYNOLDS DUE IN MIAMI THIS WEEK

TWO LEAP TO DEATH FROM STEAMER AT SEA

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The disappearance of two passengers, both of whom were listed as suicides, was reported today by the liner California, which arrived from San Francisco.

The first to disappear was Ernest Boulter, a landscape gardener of Pasadena, Cal., who jumped overboard August 2. The second was William Kerr Scott, formerly a representative of the Royal Indemnity Company at Portland Ore., who presumably jumped overboard.

GAS STATION OPERATOR KILLS HOLD-UP MAN

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 15.—(AP)—L. E. Hardison, filling station operator, last night fatally wounded Bradford B. White, 21, during a pistol duel that followed White's attempt to hold up Hardison's station.

Hardison, who told police today he had been robbed three times in the past six months and "was tired of" being released on his own recognition pending an inquest.

CREDITORS' BILL FILED ON KNOXVILLE TIMES

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 15.—(AP)—A general creditors' bill was filed in chancery court today against the Tennessee State Press Company, publishers of the Knoxville Times, republican daily, founded last February.

Neal B. Spahr, attorney for the newspaper, termed the action "friendly" and said a receiver would be sought and publication continued.

PACIFICATION POST RESIGNED BY CHANG

Military Commission of 18 Members Appointed To Take Over Work.

NANKING, China, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A definite step toward solution of China's week-old political crisis appeared today when the central executive committee of the Kuomintang, composed of the nationalist party's elder statesmen, accepted Chang Hsiao-liang's resignation as pacification commissioner in the Peiping area.

The committee abolished the commissioner's post and appointed a military commission of 18 members, which henceforth will be responsible under the direction of the Nanking government for administration of the Peiping area. This duty heretofore was performed solely by Chang Hsiao-liang.

The new commission contains henchmen of Chang and Chiang Kai-shek, who is virtually commander-in-chief of the Chinese army. This caused a belief that, although Chang Hsiao-liang had stepped down from his official position, his influence was virtually unchanged and that an alliance with Chiang Kai-shek would continue.

Observers here, therefore, thought it likely that Chiang Kai-shek, at least outwardly, had regained an advantage in the contest with Wang Ching-wei, former president of the executive Yuan, for unbridled control of the Nanking government.

Chiang Kai-shek is expected to be named chairman of the new North China military commission, thus leaving unchanged the situation in North China with regard to Manchuria.

NEARLY TWO SCORE DIE IN GERMAN HEAT WAVE

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Nearly two score deaths have been reported during the heat wave which is making all Germany swelter.

Seven deaths by drowning have been reported in the Rhine country and five persons were drowned in Berlin. Ten mountaineers vacationing in the Bavarian Alps have been killed, one of them Count Guido Luyburg, brother of the former minister to Argentina.

A dozen excursionists have died in automobile accidents, and two persons died of sunstroke in Berlin.

No Restrictions Asked On U. S. Films in Canada

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 15.—(UP)—A British empire economic conference subcommittee, reporting today on motion pictures, refrained from recommending quotas that would restrict the portrayal of American films.

Recommendations, made to the main economic co-operation committee, urged the need of developing empire films for the cultural and intellectual as well as the economic viewpoint.

Co-operation among empire units regarding censorship regulations was urged as a means of stimulating empire production.

RENT STRIKE LAUNCHED BY PANAMA TENANTS

PANAMA CITY, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Property rights and individual guarantees were suspended in a decree issued today by President Ricardo J. Alfaro after the cabinet council had been convoked to consider threatening aspects of a tenants' strike against what were considered high rentals.

The decree provided that rents could not be collected from sick and unemployed tenants, against whom the eviction laws were unenforceable, but that the government would enforce collections according to the rent contracts from all others.

Striking tenants demanded a 50 per cent reduction in all rents, with the landlords expressing willingness to make a 30 per cent reduction.

YOUR WILL Be Revised
... to Meet Present Day Conditions?

MANY wills, made during a period of high security prices, may serve to almost disinherit the family of the maker of the will!

Such an unintentional circumstance may occur because many wills first provide charitable and other bequests in cash, leaving the remainder to the family. With the decrease in security values, this remainder may be a far smaller amount than that originally intended.

If your will has not been revised recently, investigate immediately—to see that no such misfortune happens to your loved ones. We will be glad to go over the will with you and, through our statistical department, provide data on security values which will enable you to have any necessary revision made promptly by your attorney.

Father Cotter To Leave Atlanta To Assume New Post in Louisiana

Announcement was made Monday of an exchange of pastors which will affect two of the most prominent priests in Catholicism in the south. The Rev. Father Michael A. Cotter, priest of Sacred Heart church, and one of the most widely-known and popular churchmen in Atlanta, will be transferred to the pastorate of the Holy Name of Mary church, at Algiers, a suburb of New Orleans. Father Cotter also will resign as president of Mariast College.

Father Cotter will relieve the Rev. Father E. P. McGrath, priest of the Algiers church, who is expected to arrive in Atlanta today to assume the pastorate of Sacred Heart.

It was said Monday that P. H. Dagneau, who for the last five years has been principal of Mariast, will be elevated to the presidency of that institution. Father McGrath is one of the best known priests in the south and will come to Atlanta well prepared to take over the duties of Sacred Heart.

enterprises and has gathered to himself a large circle of friends and admirers.

In resigning the presidency of Mariast College to assume pastorate of the Algiers church, Father Cotter terminates six years as head of that preparatory institution.

ECONOMIC PARLEY GUARDS SECRETS

Details of Trade Agreement Cloaked To Prevent Uneasiness.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 15.—(AP)—In order that commerce may be protected from violent price fluctuations, details of tariff agreements between the United Kingdom and the dominions represented at the British imperial economic conference probably will be kept secret for some time, it developed today.

It was officially disclosed that Britain has not yet signed trade treaties of any kind with the dominions, but important differences standing in the way of an accord with Canada were understood to have been eliminated.

The two nations have virtually arrived at an understanding which would include preference in Britain for Canadian farm products and reciprocal favors in Canada for British iron, steel and coal.

The probability is that details of tariff accords will be withheld until the various ministers of finance report to their parliaments.

It was explained that if announcement were made now that Britain had agreed to put an import duty on wheat, for instance, millers might rush to acquire large stocks from Russia or other sources to avoid paying higher prices.

Canadians generally were exercised over a suggestion by Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer, that the production of staple commodities be geared to consumer demand in an effort to raise the general commodity price level.

Duke's Daughter Nurses Monkey-Bitten Ear

CANNES, France, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The daughter of an English duke nursed a bite on one of her ears today as a result of a monkey's spirited visit to a tennis match here Sunday.

A number of other prominent persons, including some Americans, were scattered by the animal's threatening antics, but aside from the bite on the ear of Lady Ursula Filmer Sankey, daughter of the Duke of Westminster, there were no other casualties.

The animal, a pet of the new Spanish Tennis Club, broke out of its cage while the finals of a match were being played, climbed on the seats and attacked Lady Ursula. It next jumped to the shoulder of Countess Noailles.

First Prize in Songame $1,000, Enough To Purchase New Car

BY THE SONGAME EDITOR.

Would you like to buy a car, if you haven't one; or would like to get one of the luxurious and improved new models, if you have one? Then bear in mind that the first prize of $1,000 in the Songame is enough to foot the bill! A glance at the automobile ads and designs that can be bought for that amount.

The other cash prizes to be awarded Songame players are enough to buy a complete new wardrobe, and for many other things.

The Songame editor takes this opportunity to remind players that, under the liberal rules of the contest, more than one set of pictures and answers may be submitted. Thus several answers can be turned in for troublesome pictures, which will give more than one try at the first prize, or one of the other 39 awards. For the convenience of readers who desire to send in extra sets, The Constitution has reprinted all of the pictures up to date. Pictures from No. 1 to No. 15 are free, while pictures from No. 16 are cost 5 cents apiece. Or, the back pictures may be had in groups, 8 for 30 cents, 40 for $1.25. These pictures are reproduced on heavy weight book paper, and will also be valuable to players who need duplicates to replace those that have become lost, mutilated or misplaced.

Songame players who wish may still obtain copies of "Songs We All Love," the comprehensive book of song titles, authors and composers, which has all of the answers for the 80 pictures. It is 50 cents a copy, by mail 54 cents.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

No Difference.

Q. I would like to know if it makes any difference if you cut the word "Songame" off of the top of the pictures.—M. L. B. Atlanta.

A. The word "Songame" and other matter which appears in the form of a headline above the pictures may be removed or retained.

Q. When I am undecided between two answers, and there is room for two answers on the coupon, would it be all right to write in both?—N. H. B. Columbus, Ga.

A. Only one answer may be written on any one coupon. Contestants may submit as many answers as they wish, but each answer must be on a separate coupon, and sets must be complete.

No Registration.

Q. Do I have to register in order to take part in the Songame?—Mrs. T. W. K., Athens, Ga.

A. No.

Take Your Time.

Q. Will the first sets of answers turned in have first consideration with the judges?—F. J. A. Atlanta.

A. The Songame judges will not begin their work until all of the pictures and answers have been checked in. The order in which sets are received will have no bearing on the selection of the winners.

More Easy Ones.

Q. I'd like to know—do the pictures become harder toward the last part of the contest?—C. L. T., Atlanta.

A. Not all of the remaining pictures will be difficult to solve. In fact, a few of the last pictures are among the easiest of the series. Aren't you glad?

We'd Like to, But Mustn't.

Q. I wonder if you would tell me on which page in "Songs We All Love" I can find the answer for picture No. 40.—Mrs. E. O. D., Griffin, Ga.

A. The S. E. regrets that he is not permitted to help you in this way.

Join In, and Welcome!

Q. Is it permissible for two families living in the same house to enter the Songame?—J. C. L., Atlanta.

A. Two different families living in the same house are eligible for the Songame prizes. Eligible, and welcome, too!

No Particularity.

Q. The Songame is by far the most enjoyable feature I've ever followed. My understanding of the rules is clear, but I wish you would answer this question, please—In the event two contestants should tie for a prize—one of whom is a subscriber to your newspaper, and the other a non-subscriber, will the former be shown the more consideration by the judges?—H. L. C. Atlanta.

A. Subscribers who are taking part in the Songame will have no advantage over non-subscribers. The first prize of $1,000 will be just as readily awarded to a non-subscriber as to a reader of long standing. No partiality will be shown.

The Only One.

Q. Are there any other books, besides "Songs We All Love," that can be used by Songame contestants?—Mrs. W. L. B., Athens, Ga.

A. Songame players may consult any reference works they choose, but "Songs We All Love" is the only publication that has all of the correct answers.

Free Pictures.

Q. Can pictures from No. 1 to No. 15 still be obtained free? I have decided to submit an extra set, and I could use them.—Mrs. C. M. H., Atlanta.

A. Yes. The Constitution continues to have on hand an ample supply of the first 15 pictures, printed on the sheet with the list of song titles. These pictures will be given to readers who visit the circulation department, or who request them by mail, and enclose a 2-cent stamp.

Anonymous letters from contestants who ask interesting questions frequently cannot, because of limited space, be answered in this column. Contestants can only be assured of answers to their written questions when they sign their names and addresses. Unnecessary ... PARTNERSHIP!

HERE is a thought which was suggested to me by a bank customer recently. He told me that at one period in his business career he required some money and was considering a man as a partner. He did not want a partner but he needed the money.

While checking the credit of this man at the bank he told an officer his situation and the bank solved the difficulty by loaning him the necessary funds!

The owner of a business needing more money, without thorough analysis sometimes takes in a partner with cash—or issues new stock, when his real need is only a temporary loan.

That is where a good bank can help—by the right kind of advice and by making the required loan.

If you have a business problem, talk to a bank officer about it. That is the biggest reason he is behind his desk—just to help if he can.

Mr. Frank Longinotti, secretary of the Memphis ball club, was hippy-hopping around at the baseball park last night, tying his vocal cords into moaning knots one moment and stretching them into a shriek the next.

One gathered that it was very difficult to be on the sidelines while a ball club is fighting for a pennant. It is a very strange disease, this pennant nervousness, to this locality. Hence Frank Longinotti becomes an interesting study. The town isn't used to such nervousness.

"Oh," said he, as he leaped to his right foot, "Oh, oh, he let that one get by."

"Eeeeeee-yow," he shrieked, going up on both toes, "they caught him at second."

Mr. Longinotti put on his hat and took it off. He put his hands in his pockets and took them out. He rubbed one ear and pulled the other.

"I cannot stand it. I will fly into pieces," he said, "if this club cannot get a lead of more than one run. His breath came hoarse and whistled through his teeth."

It may be that it is an excellent thing the Crackers are not in the pennant fight. It seems to be very, very hard on the nerves. A lot of local hearts couldn't stand it.

A shadow, employed at no small cost, followed the Memphis secretary and business manager through the park. He sat in 25 different seats during the first game of the double header. The heel of his pants was thin from so much sliding around.

Those who think that obtaining ball players is an easy matter even when one has the do, re, mi to put on the line, should talk with Longinotti. He has caused a slightly bullish tendency in the stock of the telegraph companies by sending off wires for players. He has money.

"But I don't seem to be able to get what we want," he said. "But I think we can win just the same."

The Chicks are in the thick of a pennant fight with a 17-year-old kid breaking in at short and injured players clattering up the landscape. But they keep winning. They moved out ahead of the Lookouts again Monday night by their twin victory over the Crackers.

As the second game of the double header started Longinotti was teetering around on his toes, biting his nails and chewing the brim off his hat. His club got four runs right now and eased off the situation. Or Frank Longinotti would have been picking nerve ends out of his coat.

He and Tom Watkins have done a great job at Memphis. And it would not be surprising to see them win from the combination of Chattanooga and Santa Claus at Washington.

THE OLD RELIABLE.

It was a pleasure to watch Steamboat Johnson and Buck Campbell, two of the best umpires in the minor leagues, get down to work. They handle a baseball game quickly and keep it in hand at all times. The league hasn't had such a pair in years.

In fact, Boss Bill Brennan's staff is about the best the league has had in the past 10 years. There are fewer umpire troubles this year than ever before. Because the incompetents are fewer.

And putting The Steamer and his little playmate, Buck Campbell, on the spot because they were assigned to work several Memphis-Chattanooga games was hardly fair. The umpire goes where he is assigned and does his best. And it's a very fine best that The Steamer and Campbell have turned in. They seem to improve each year.

ANDY JR. AND HOWARD MESSENGER.

Andy Messenger, the tall right-hander, has pitched great baseball for the Crackers all season. He has had a lot of the tougher sort of breaks but keeps his equilibrium and pitches good ball right along.

Lefty's two kids, Andy Jr., and Howard, want to take up baseball as a profession when they grow up. Both play ball now. And Messenger thinks enough of his profession to encourage them in it so that they may see whether they have the ability or not.

Strangely enough, Andy Jr. doesn't want to be a pitcher. He thinks the outfield is the spot. And Howard Messenger is the one who wants to follow his father out there on the mound and throw hooks and fast ones up there at the batters.

"HELPING" WITH MAX.

An insight into the heavyweight situation and the machinations which go on there, is found in the law suit filed yesterday, on behalf of Broadway Charlie Rose.

Broadway Charlie Rose seeks to collect $24,000 from Joe Jacobs, manager of the world's champion Max Schmeling, for "helping" to manage the champion. Jacobs alleges that he has a release signed by Rose for a consideration of $10.

Rose's attorney admits the release was signed but says it will show some "shaky" handwriting. Broadway Charlie Rose was not in court with his attorney and his attorney intimated that Broadway Charlie Rose was afraid to appear.

There is always something. I imagine that Yussel Jacobs will get out of this. They never have jammed the Yussel into a corner and made him yell for mercy.

There seems to be something about all heavyweight arrangements which are difficult to explain. The impeccable Gene Tunney never quite explained his relations with Max (Boo Hoo) Hoff, the so-called "influence" from Philadelphia.

And Tunney was the defendant in at least two other suits filed by men who claimed to have "helped" in the management of the champion. He won them.

There is no telling. Maybe Broadway Charlie Rose used one of these postoffice pens. They are pretty shaky. Or maybe the release was signed in a speak-easy or on a morning after. Mr. Rose's attorney did not specify exactly what had made his client's handwriting appear shaky.

At any rate the Yussel will get it out of his safety deposit box and show it to the judge on Friday.

Until then we wonder what "help" Charlie Rose gave that was worth $10?

WALKER-SCHMELING.

One wonders about the Walker-Schmeling fight. It is agreed on for September 19 at New York, the winner to fight Jack Sharkey, world's champion, next June.

The Walker-Schmeling fight was on for Miami last summer. But there was a definite absence of paying customers in Miami and the vicinity. There were, one of the boys said, plenty of palms, itching and froded, but no money to soothe the itching palms.

There was also talk that the fight was to be in the bag for Walker. A well-known resident of one of our local institutions was mentioned in connection with it. But he was mentioned in connection with most everything so no one really knew.

Schmeling will win. Walker is just a good, fat middleweight and he won't be able to stop Schmeling. Unless, of course, there is some phengling.

It looks like Sharkey and Schmeling again next June. And Schmeling will win this time. Sharkey had slipped when they met this summer but not as much as Jacobs and Schmeling had expected him to slip in the two years they avoided him. He won. But another year will be too much.

HELEN JACOBS, VIRGINIA RICE CLASH TODAY

Mrs. Harper Extended To Beat Eleanor Goss in National.

By Gayle Talbot.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 15.

(P)—Stripped of much of its accustomed glamour by the absence of the champion, Mrs. Helen Jacobs, and England's leading stars, the women's national tennis championship is moved through the opening round today with no upsets and very little excitement.

The big bowl at the Westside Tennis Club was filled for the first 20 Mrs. L. A. Harper matches, which reduced the field of contenders for Queen Helen's scepter to an even 32.

Only one of the five seeded players who saw action was extended to three sets.

Eleanor Jacobs, an overwhelming favorite to attain the title she has sought for these many years, was accorded a bye in the initial round.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper, the left-handed star, was extended to dispose of Eleanor Goss, of New York, by scores of 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Josephine Crickshaft, seeded No. 4, defeated Eugene Sampson, of Chicago, about as she pleased, 6-1, 6-0; Virginia Hilleary, seeded 7, eliminated Olga Kallos, of Ridgefield, N. J., 6-2, 6-1; Carolyn Babcock, seeded No. 6, eliminated Mrs. Robert H. Morris, of Cohasset, Mass., 6-2, 6-1; and Mrs. Marjorie Morrell Painter, seeded No. 3, defeated Mrs. Christian Muhl, of Philadelphia, 6-4, 6-2.

RECEIVE BYES.

Sarah Palfrey and Mrs. John Van Ryn, seeded No. 5 and 8, respectively, on the domestic list, received byes today, as did also Joan Ridley, of England. Marjorie Leeming, former Canadian champion, scored in the first round of the tournament, defeating Anne Page, of Philadelphia, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

Germany's lone representative, Mrs. Alida Beer Emden, bowed in her first match to Mrs. Philip Hawk, of New York, 6-3, 6-3.

Mrs. Elsie G. Pittman, of England, top ranking foreign contender, had little difficulty beating Cecelia Riegel, of Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-3.

CHICKS DEFEAT CRACKERS TWICE

Double Win Puts Memphis Club at Top of League Once More.

By Jimmy Jones.

Elmer Jacobs and Harry Kelly, two of Doe Prothro's uncertain performers, came to the front in a big way against the Atlanta Crackers last night and the result was a double-header victory which boosted the Chicks to a full game ahead of the Crackers in the league standings.

In the first game, the veteran Jack Kelly returned to action for the first time in several weeks and outpointed Andy Messenger, who had been out of the game since his last appearance in the league.

And in the second game, Kelly turned in what was probably his most dazzling exhibition of the season, holding the Crackers to only two hits—both by Manager Red Barron—while his mates poured in a 12-0 victory.

The Crackers used three pitchers in the second game. Bumpy Hearn making a rocky start, lasting only one-third of an inning, while young Hugh Casey, his relief, faced little better. Johnny Chambers, local boy, chucked the last frame and was shut out for four runs.

Despite the lowly position of the Crackers, a crowd of 1,100 (paid) continued on Second Sport Page.

Miss Holm's Retirement To Leave Door Open

Pretty New York Star Plans To Go on Stage. Real Break for Louisa Robert.

By Jack Troy.

Without the aid of crystal gazing or any of the appurtenances thereto, one can peer into the relatively near future and see a woman swimming champion who calls Atlanta, Ga., home.

And it probably will occur in a shorter space of time than you would imagine. A year or so hence is not a remote possibility.

The reason why is that Eleanor Holm, national and Olympic backstroke champion, plans to turn professional and go on the stage, after all.

The late Florence Ziegfeld, try as he might, could not persuade the petite New York star to take her place among the glorified gals of the American stage.

But, according to news advices, she is planning to accept recent offers. A stage contract is awaiting her return to New York.

Psychopathic Patient's Mind Blank 2 Plead Innocent Permanently After Fatal Mishap In 'Sweat Box' Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A 15-year-old psychopathic patient in City hospital, who soon was to be released as cured, was in a state of delirium today as he brooded over an accident that caused the death of a fellow patient, William Chase, 25.

The shock caused by the youth's belief he had killed Chase so unbalanced the boy mentally that hospital physicians said it was doubtful he ever again would recover his reason. They withheld his name, although police who investigated held him blameless.

Chase had entered the hospital voluntarily on June 7, in the belief he was suffering from mental disease. He was an interested spectator at an athletic meet Saturday in which only those patients about to be released were permitted to participate.

Near the end of the meet the 15-year-old patient, a husky youth, unloosed a mighty toss of the javelin. The spear struck Chase behind the ear and he died three hours later of a fractured skull without regaining consciousness.

Physicians who informed the young patient of Chase's death said he opened his mouth as if to explain he had not meant to hit Chase. Only inaudible words came, however, and he immediately became delirious.

Physicians said he was officially absolved of all blame in the killing.

New Paraguan Chief Pledges Conciliation

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Eusebio Ayala was inaugurated today for a four-year term as president of Paraguay. He wrote into his inaugural address his policy of conciliation with Bolivia in the Gran Chaco dispute.

Paraguay, he said, is and always has been ready to submit this issue to any conciliatory tribunal. He asserted, however, that Bolivia's declaration that she needs the Paraguay river as an outlet to the sea is merely a pretext for conquering the Chaco.

Dr. Ayala, now 57, taught philosophy, political science and sociology at the National University of Paraguay before and during his political career. Since 1909 he has served in several cabinets and at one time was envoy to the United States. He was elected to the presidency last May, succeeding President Jose Guigiar.

Possemen Dismissed In Coal Mine Area

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 14.—(UP)—Sheriff Charles Winnecke dismissed his shotgun posse tonight after announcing he didn't believe a threatened invasion of Christian county by coal strikers would materialize. The sheriff kept only a few men on duty, on the chance that the strikers might attempt to "outsman him."

He had 1,500 possemen patrolling the highways earlier in the day, ready

LINDBERGH VISITS NEWARK AIRPORT FOR RETURN TO AIR

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 15.—(UP)—A figure stepped into the bright sunlight in front of one of the Newark airport hangars today, causing a long, slow crowd of people to form inside. Several waiting attendants glanced up at a boyish appearing man, bearded in the sun, a slight cross-field breeze ruffling his hair.

"I am Colonel Lindbergh," the figure announced. "Will you get that Northrup monoplane ready for me, please?"

It was his first appearance at an airport since the body of his kidnapped and murdered baby was found buried in the woods four miles from his home. The body was found on the night of March 1.

A mechanic stepped up and told Lindbergh the ship was ready. He stepped into the cabin, slammed the door, and the plane taxied out on the field. The motor roared. The tail came up and leveled off. The wheels left the ground slowly and the Lone Eagle had taken wing after weeks on the ground. Something in the way the plane flew seemed to bespeak the spirits of the man within it was a relief.

He was away almost an hour. When he returned he made several trial landings before taxing the plane to the hangar.

Physicians of Havana Quit Clinics, Strike

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 15.—(UP)—A strike of Havana physicians, starting tonight, affected more than 2,000 patients in the clinics of six co-operative societies.

The strikers left only skeleton staffs on duty.

The physicians struck because of refusal of the societies to require members who are financially able to pay for extra medical services.

MRS. M. M. TROTTER DIES AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. M. M. Trotter, wife of the manager of the Manchester Mills, of Manchester, Ga., died Monday night at the Piedmont hospital, after an illness of one month. She was brought to the hospital three weeks ago, and was thought to be recovering when her death occurred unexpectedly. She was 42 years of age.

A member of a prominent South Carolina family, Mrs. Trotter was widely known in the middle and southern sections of Georgia. She and her husband were friends of Governor and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and frequently entertained the democratic nominee and his wife at dinner at their Manchester home.

Mrs. Trotter was extremely active in the work of the Warm Springs Foundation, and gave liberally of her money and time to help the children there. She was a leader in civic and social affairs in Manchester, and did a great deal of social work among the mill workers in Manchester. Her husband, widely known in manufacturing circles over the south, has been manager of the Manchester Mills, among the largest in the state, for 18 years.

Mrs. Trotter was the former Miss Tudor Perry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Perry, of Greenville, S. C. She was a member of the Episcopal church, and funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at the St. James Episcopal church in Greenville. Interment will be in the family lot there.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Trotter is survived by two daughters, Tudor and Virginia Trotter, and three sons, Mack, Bill and Jim Trotter, of Manchester; her parents and two sisters and four brothers. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge of arrangements.

YOUTH, DESPONDENT, SHOOT HIMSELF

Noel W. Grant, 21, of 1073 Lee street, was found dead in a critical condition late Monday night as the result of a pistol wound near his heart, which, members of his family said, was self-inflicted. Young Grant, a despondent youth, was employed for the past nine months, shot himself at his home while his mother, Mrs. M. E. Grant, and his sister, Miss Julia Grant, sat on the front porch within a few feet of his bedroom, where he was found unconscious.

Physicians at the hospital said that a blood transfusion would probably be necessary to save his life. A first course of treatment was given at the hospital, but the blood transfusion was made, it was said. He was tested Monday night, and it was found that the blood of the two matched.

WEART'S SUCCESSOR AT SAVANNAH NAMED

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Major G. L. Weart, United States army, has been ordered to Savannah to become army district engineer of the Savannah district, relieving Major G. L. Weart, United States army, it was learned here today.

Major Garlington for the last four years has been detailed for duty on the general staff at Washington. For the past six weeks he has been on duty in the Norfolk district, as assistant to Major G. S. Young, army district engineer. He came here with the intention of remaining two months and then proceeding to Savannah to relieve Major Weart. It is expected he will leave for his new post about September 1.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 15.—Major G. L. Weart declined to state today to what post he was assigned but the Morning News has learned from its Washington correspondent that he will likely go to the Vicksburg, Miss., station, there to assist Colonel Ferguson, who formerly was engineer in charge of the Norfolk division.

Major Weart has been here for three years.

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor operations remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money-back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that Jacobs' Drug Stores and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not cure your Pile misery. —(adv.)

More Showers Seen For Atlanta Today

Weather with temperatures which will not get above 80 degrees is predicted for Atlanta again today according to Arthur H. Scott, United States meteorologist. The official forecast calls for generally cloudy weather and local showers.

Showers and an overcast sky Monday held the mercury to a 77-degree maximum in Atlanta, and a low reading of 69 degrees. Today's temperature will not reach 80 degrees either, said Mr. Scott due to the continued cloudy weather and rain. Approximately 25 of an inch of rain fell during the day Monday when at the outburst the day Monday when the month was 1.54 inches and the deficiency was .50 of an inch.

Solon Offers 'Proof' Of Bonus Army Guns

LACROSSE, Wis., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Representative Royal C. Johnson, of South Dakota, said tonight that at the proper time he would offer proof that "dynamite and caps, with guns and ammunition, were found in the bonus camp" at Washington.

Addressing an American Legion banquet, Johnson, a republican, a veteran himself, and former chairman of the house veterans committee, blamed communists for instigating and carrying out the siege on the nation's capital that resulted in riot, bloodshed and death.

"Men don't bring in dynamite to start a Y. M. C. A. or Sunday school meeting, and they don't bring in pistols to start a pink tea," he said.

Fla. Chain Store Tax To Be Tested in Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Florida's chain store tax law is due for a supreme court test this fall.

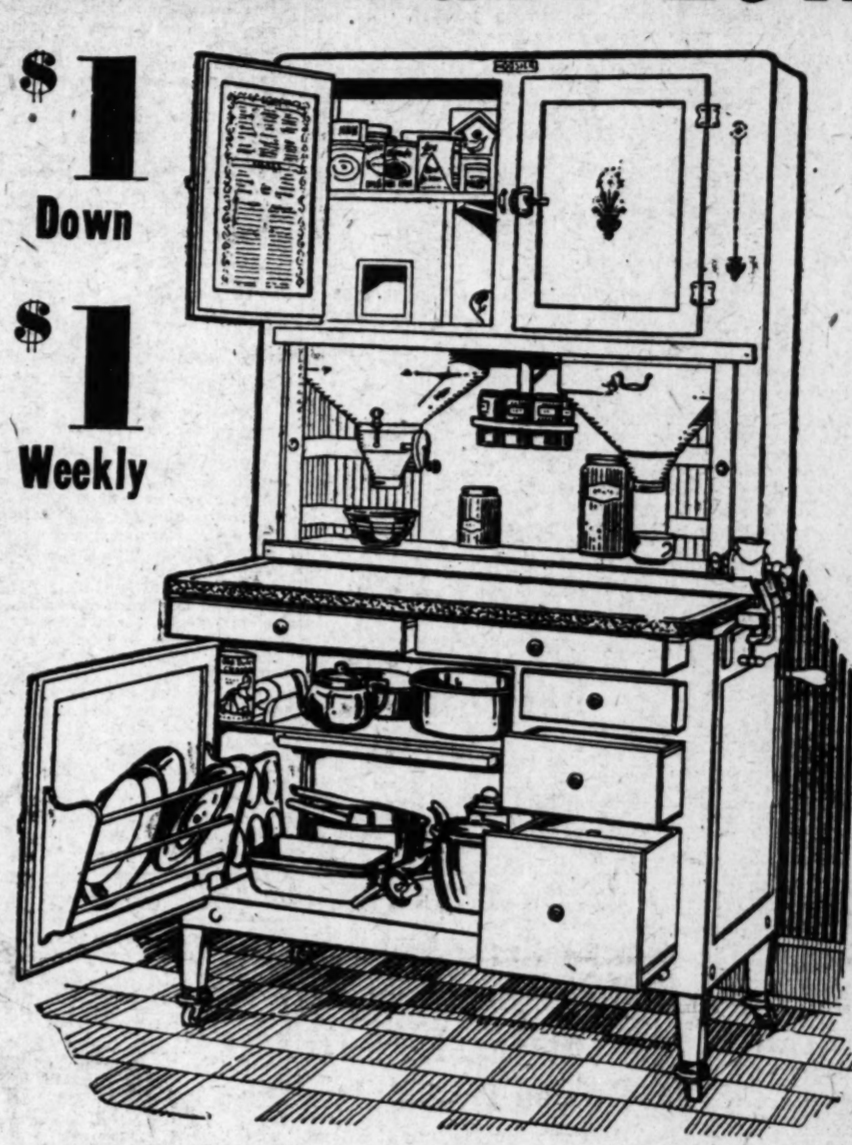

Operators of three chains today brought their appeal from Florida court decisions upholding the statute which levied a graduated tax on chain units.

Miss Rauers, of Savannah, Ga., To Wed Mr. Adams, of Asheville

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 15.—Atlanta society will be interested in the announcement which was made today by Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Rauers of the engagement of their daughter, Katherine Upright, to Junior Green Adams Jr., of Biltmore Forest, N. C. No announcement of the season will be received with more widespread interest, as Miss Rauers and Mr. Adams are members of families prominently identified with Georgia and North Carolina.

Miss Rauers has numerous friends in Atlanta made on visits to Mrs. W. Colquitt Carter Jr., the former Miss Marian Cobb Bryan. Mrs. Carter has also visited Miss Rauers in Savannah.

Miss Rauers is the third of the attractive daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Rauers. Her mother was formerly Miss Marion Hammond, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond, and her father, who is now retired, was a member of the firm of Williams, son & Rauers. Miss Rauers attended the Pape school, and later the Masters school at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and made her debut in 1928 when she was presented to society in December at a brilliant masquerade ball. She possesses charm and poise of manner and is a popular member of the younger social contingent. She is a member of the Junior League, in which she takes an active part.

Mr. Adams is the son of Judge and Mrs. Junius G. Adams, of Biltmore Forest, N. C., and is well known here, where he has frequently visited. He graduated from the Asheville school and from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and is also a graduate of the University of North Carolina law school. His father is a prominent jurist in Asheville and is a member of the law firm of Merriam, Adams & Adams, with which Mr. Adams is now connected. No date has been set for the wedding.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

There is an old rhyme that comes to mind these days:
"Bees in the market, 10 cents a pound."
All that goes up is bound to come down.

Are we not all in the market with the bees? And having been up we have to come down. And, like the bees, too, we didn't fall overnight. When you take a budget sheet and rewrite it on a reduced scale of any 17 per cent each item has to be figured separately. You can't take off $1 all the way down. There are some items that must be cut to the amount of several dollars and some cut to less than a dollar. You have to be an expert in percentage to reduce that budget so that the cut falls alike on every item. Well, we who had to cut our budgets were not percentage experts and we tried to do the job by snipping off small amounts here and there, and generally we cut the small items first.

A woman told me that when faced with the necessity of rearranging her whole financial scheme she gave up butter and began to use substitutes, pinching pennies in this fashion because she didn't know any other way. One day she came in with her groceries and burst into hilarious laughter. There, in her garage, were two automobiles. You see she had figured that the automatic washing machine paid for. There was no expense in connection with keeping cars when licenses, insurance, cost price were considered. But it came out over her head with a rush that the reduction in her living expenses was altogether wrong.

ed vocal selections. Master James Edwin Stretch, nephew of the bridegroom, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Master L. E. Smith Jr. acted as ringbearer. He wore a white satin. Little Misses Betty Storey and Edith Mae Armstrong were flower girls. They wore pink tulle with ruffled skirts and carried old-fashioned bouquets of pink roses showered with pink and white snapdragons.

Miss Lucia Storey, cousin of the bride, acted as maid-of-honor and wore a gown of black velvet with cream lace trimmings. She wore a close-fitting black silk turban and carried a bouquet of Talsman roses.

The bride wore brown crepe with trimmings of deep egg shell satin. The tailored coat copied from a Jean Patou model, was caught with large tailored buttons at the waist line. Her hat was of brown felt and her slippers, bag and gloves repeated the chosen color note of fall brown. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses showered with valley lilies.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Lucius O. Storey, and they met the bridegroom and his best man, Ben Neal, at the altar.

After the ceremony Mrs. L. O. Storey, mother of the bride, entertained at an informal reception.

Receiving the guests were: Miss Louise Storey, Mrs. Earle Stretch, Mrs. Edgar Sparks and Mrs. E. B. O'Neal, mother of the bridegroom. Presiding at the punch bowl was Misses Sara Storey and Virginia Slaughter.

Mrs. L. O. Storey, mother of the bride, wore a model of blue and pink chiffon with a shoulder spray of pink rose buds.

Mrs. E. B. O'Neal, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in black crepe. Her flowers were sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Earle Stretch and Mrs. Edgar Sparks, sister of the bridegroom, wore blue and white chiffon with shoulder sprays of pink rose buds.

Mr. O'Neal and his bride left for their wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Fla. Upon their return they will make their home in Waverly Hall.

Mrs. O'Neal is an only daughter of Lucius O. Storey and Mrs. Pearl Moon Storey, prominent family of Waverly Hall. She attended the Georgia State Teachers College, at Athens, and Shorter College, at Rome. She also studied at Columbia University in New York.

Mr. O'Neal is a son of the distinguished Mr. and Mrs. E. B. O'Neal, of Waverly Hall. After finishing high school he attended preparatory school, later graduating at business college.

Kills Wife and Self.
James Jackson, negro, of 124 Linden street, Monday afternoon shot and killed his wife, Willie Mae Jackson, and fired a bullet into his heart, dying almost instantly, according to police reports.

Neighbors of the Jacksons told officers the man and his wife had quarreled at length. Monday morning, they said, they saw the husband run out onto the porch of their home, fire once at his wife and then turn the gun on himself.

SMART SCHEMES FOR THIS MODEL

Printed crepe silk in navy and white is especially nice. The binding are vivid red to tone with the vivid red leather belt.

It's a dress that is extremely flattering. And, incidentally, it's a type that suits the miss or the matron.

The crossed bodice and the plaits at the front of the skirt, stitched part way, are decidedly slimming qualities you'll like.

White promises to be very fashionable for summer. And this model would be adorable in flat or crinkle crepe silk and novelty cottons that resemble woolen.

Style No. 870 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 3 yards of binding.

Price of book 15 cents. Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Miss Mobley To Be Bride Of Mr. Harris

MACON, Ga., Aug. 15.—Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Georgia Mobley, of Sanford, Fla., and T. J. Harris Jr., of Macon, formerly of Atlanta. Miss Mobley, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mobley, of Sanford, Fla., studied at Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee and is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority. She has recently visited in Macon as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kingman.

Mr. Harris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Harris, of Atlanta, formerly of Macon. He studied at Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, and later at Washington and Lee, Lexington, Va., where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Theta fraternity. He is connected with the Macon office of the Harris Loan Company.

After their marriage in October, Mr. Harris and his bride will make their home in Macon and will be at the Massie apartments.

Police May Move Radio Transmitter

Removal of the transmitter of the police radio station, WPDY, probably to the site of the old city stockade adjoining the James L. Key golf course, was discussed by the police department from the station after it was heard all over Fulton county, it was learned Monday following the report of an engineer's survey. O. H. Pendley, secretary of the police committee, said that while no definite decision has been made, the stockade site appeared the most logical.

MRS. E. M. COLE DIES AT ATLANTA HOSPITAL

Mrs. E. M. Cole, widely known resident of Newnan and a member of a prominent Georgia family, died Monday morning at the Georgia Baptist hospital, following a short illness. She was 61 years old.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Cole family residence in Newnan, and the Rev. Roland C. Young will officiate. Interment is to be in the Newnan cemetery.

The former Miss Mattie Tate, of Tate, Ga., Mrs. Cole was the daughter of William Tate and Martha Byrd Tate, prominent Georgians. She was active in social and civic work in Newnan. Her husband died four years ago. She is survived by three sons, Raymond Tate, and R. D. Cole III, of Atlanta, and E. M. Cole, of Birmingham, Ala.; a daughter, Miss Martha Tate Cole, of Newnan; two sisters, Mrs. Mamie Tate Holland, of Marietta, and Mrs. Preston Rambo, of Winter Park, Fla.; and two grandchildren, Margaret M. and Edwin M. Cole III, of Birmingham. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge of arrangements.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

The Importance of Little Things

A great many players fail to realize the importance of being continually on the qui vive during the play of a hand. A tendency to consider some seemingly minor plays as being of no importance frequently allows many apparently impossible contracts to be made. The following is an innocent enough looking hand, which was successfully defended and defeated by Mr. H. Huber Boscowitz at the Cavendish Club in New York. The play itself seems simple enough, but I wonder how many players would make this same play should the opportunity arise again.

East-Dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

East: A 3 2, K 7 6 2, J 8 5, 9, 10 8 4, A Q 4, Q 9 3 2, 8 6 3.

West: J 9 6, J 8 5, A K Q, 5 4.

South: K Q 7 5, 10 9 3, A 10 4, J 10 2.

North: J 9 6, J 8 5, A K Q, 5 4.

The bidding:

East: 1♣, 2♣, 3NT.

South: 1♠, 2NT, 3NT.

West: 1♠, 2NT, 3NT.

North: 1♠, 2NT, 3NT.

The bidding may seem a little optimistic, but actually East and West did get within an inch of making the contract. Mr. Boscowitz, sitting North, chose as his Opening lead the fourth best diamond. Declarer won the trick in Dummy with the King, led a low club over to the Knave in his hand and then laid down the spade 5. I am quite sure that most players would now unthinkingly play low, hoping that the Dummy would be topped by partner. Mr. Boscowitz, however, did not play carelessly, but paused to consider the situation. Obviously Declarer had a total of 8 club tricks available, plus the diamond Ace-King. South could not hold the diamond Ace as he would certainly have captured the King with it on the first trick. Declarer, therefore, needed only one more trick, and if the spade Knave should hold, this 1 trick was automatically established. Why was he leading a spade immediately? Obviously because he must be afraid of some other suit and the only missing suit is hearts. North, therefore, went right up with the spade Ace and led his fourth best heart. South caught on to the idea immediately and took the trick with the Ace, returning the Queen. When this held, he led his last heart, and Mr. Boscowitz was able to cash the two setting tricks.

Obviously, if Declarer's plan had succeeded and Dummy's spade Knave had held the trick, he would have abandoned the spade suit and taken his 9 tricks immediately. His plan of campaign was undoubtedly the best, and I venture to say would have succeeded against nine out of ten players. Alertness at all times is a vital part of every strong player's game.

Today's Pointer.
Whether you are the Declarer or are playing on the defense, it is vitally important, if you wish to succeed in Contract, to be continuously on the alert. Even minor plays may be the difference between the making and the losing of a contract.

Tomorrow's Hand.
Neither side vulnerable.

East: A 3 2, K 7 6 2, J 8 5, 9, 10 8 4, A Q 4, Q 9 3 2, 8 6 3.

West: J 9 6, J 8 5, A K Q, 5 4.

South: K Q 7 5, 10 9 3, A 10 4, J 10 2.

North: J 9 6, J 8 5, A K Q, 5 4.

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

Headlines Tell the Usual Story Of Accidents Over Week-End

Glance at these headlines, which were clipped from Atlanta newspapers yesterday:

"Accidents claim 17 lives in south. Auto mishaps take heaviest toll. A good woman struck by street car."

"Run over by train. Boy loses legs."

"Twelve persons were injured in three automobile accidents in the city of Atlanta Sunday."

Of course these captions tell a story and bear a warning. The story they tell is the story of death and injury on every side in the ever-growing accident wave. The warning is a warning to every man and woman to protect his or her income against abrupt halt and to safeguard the security of loved ones.

Bear in mind in this connection that The Constitution offers you the famous $10,000 travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago, which company has already paid over $150,000 in claims to Constitution policy holders.

Also bear in mind that The Constitution is not making anything out of this insurance, but is offering it to its subscribers for the protection of its subscribers, and each policy, when you take into consideration the expense of handling it, costs The Constitution a great deal more than the small registration fee of $1.

This is purely for the benefit of Constitution subscribers, and those not taking advantage of this insurance service are standing in their own light and neglecting their own opportunity. The policy provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 in case of death resulting from certain accidents, heavy cash payments for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from the stated accidents, and the cost is only a small registration fee of $1 per year, which is just about 2c per week.

A train wreck, a crash of automobiles, the speeding wheels of an on-rushing car, or a burning building, may leave you the victim of the ever-growing wave of accidents today.

This $10,000 travel and $1,000 auto and pedestrian accident policy is is-just about 2c per week.

ued only to subscribers of the daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 60 at a small registration fee of $1 per policy per year.

One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for it through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible. Those taking the daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a postoffice or rural route delivery, for one year are eligible by paying the $1 registration fee per year per policy above the subscription price.

Subscribers living in Atlanta and suburbs finding it inconvenient to pay $1 registration fee in advance can pay the small registration fee of $1 with the application and 20c per week thereafter for 5 consecutive weeks in addition to the subscription price.

BABES ON BROADWAY

by JANE DIXON

"Looks like he's already in, of his own free will and accord," Quinlan reminded her. "It can't do him any harm and it may do you plenty of good. He's interested in you, ain't he?"

"Not in the least," Tony denied. "He's interested in a friend of mine."

"The woman at Haven Beach?"

"The girl I believe to be at Haven Beach."

"He is, eh? Now that's funny. I'd have sworn—well, there's one way we can settle about the Haven Beach woman. That's by turning up with the real Antoinette Brookes. The other one insists it's her name. We know it ain't. Well, she's cutting her own throat. Looks like she's guilty of something and wants to shift the blame. The best thing for you to do is to go out to Haven Beach with me and have a little talk with her."

"Oh, please—I can't do that! I never want to go there again—never, and—I've had instructions from a lawyer—not to do anything until I consult him. He'll be here in the city, tomorrow."

"Plenty can happen between now and tomorrow," Quinlan said cryptically. "In a case like this, time is the big edge. My advice to you is to go out now and get this thing out of the papers. They're building it up by the hour. Pretty soon it's going to be a murder instead of a suicide and you'll be blown up as one of the suspects."

"Murder! Antoinette Brookes suspected of murder!"

"I'll go, Mr. Quinlan. I'll go now."

"Haven Beach, with one of its ornate Georgian windows bared and grated, was near the station."

"That big brown building over there by the water is the hotel where Selden jumped," Quinlan pointed out as he walked with Tony toward the courthouse. "Some little love nest. And some jump too—from the twentieth story. He made a good job of it all right."

Tony drew the collar of her coat close around her throat. In front of the hotel (turns) and severed walls a garden with palms and gay spring flowers and birds with songs vibrating in their lemon yellow throats, stretched over the water. The orchestra in the winter garden played the same soft insidious music. The air was just as perfumed. Women's eyes held the same allure. Men were just as gallant. Laughter was as merry as the day she, too, laughed there.

Preliminaries in the courthouse were a confusion in Tony's mind, until she sat in a large room with long table in its center and heavy oak chairs scattered at intervals, waiting for Lee.

"Let her make the first pass when she comes in," Quinlan instructed Tony. "Just sit tight and see what happens."

Time stretched out into an endless, a nerve-strumming wait.

"Maybe she's dollyin' up," Quinlan said.

No, Lee hadn't dollyed up. Not if this was Lee sliding through the door, eyes darting this way and that, nervously, her face pale. Wreaths of hair, straight and straggling, straggling forward over shiny eyes. Ruffled and soiled finery. The hem coming out of one side of her bright red sports dress with the white dots, hanging and frayed. A great stain where the red had faded into the white dots.

A red lace and chiffon kerchief, size of a dinner napkin, one corner of it knotted about her wrist. A run up the front of her zossamer hose. The stilled heels of her black suede pumps wobbling.

"What do you want?" Lee's eyes came to rest on Quinlan. Just at first Tony could not realize Lee had spoken. She thought the question must have come from the usual woman with the bulging arms and firm mouth who shut the door behind her and said, "Lee, that voice! Hoarse and old. Toneless save for the rasp of suspicion, of mutiny in it."

"I brought a friend of yours out to call on you," Quinlan said ingratiatingly. "A young lady who says her name is Antoinette Brookes. Ever see her before?"

Lee followed the motion of Quinlan's hand. Her eyes, red-rimmed, and dulled from lack of sleep, stared malevolently at Tony.

"No, never saw her."

"Never lived with her on West 46th street?"

"No."

"Never had her in your apartment on 'The Park'?"

"No."

"Never came to Haven Beach with her and Selden and another fellow?"

Lee's eyes shifted to Quinlan. She had made a mistake. If she had admitted knowing Tony, she could have admitted that first trip to Haven Beach and found in it reason for the second trip and for—too late.

"How could I go anywhere with her when I've never seen her?" How pale and thin Lee's lips were.

"Now that's too bad," Quinlan propitiated. "The young lady thinks she knows you. Me and the matron will step outside the door for a few minutes and let you girls talk. Maybe that'll refresh your memory."

Tony waited until the door had closed.

"Lee," she cried softly. The venom in those red-rimmed, staring eyes could not frighten her. "Why don't you tell them the truth? They know—the police—they are not Antoinette Brookes."

"Yes they do! The ugly, strident sound in Lee's throat was meant to be a laugh. "Don't try any of that meaty-mouthed stuff of yours on me. If they knew, they wouldn't be pounding at me all day and all night to tell me who am. My name's Antoinette Brookes and I come from Centerville, a burg upstate."

"Oh, Lee, you can't mention Centerville. That's my home, my mother's and my father's home."

"I can't! What's going to stop me. What stopped you when you sneaked Tom Stewart away from me? What stopped you when you told you I was crazy about HIM—Jock? You went right on, didn't you, playing that milkmaid stuff? The only one you didn't go after was Adam Leonard. That was because you had a yen for his friend, Kemp. Maybe you've got Adam now. He's not been camping in the yard or anything since I've been here."

Tony thought: Lee's not sane. May-

A. M. E. WILL LAUNCH SESSIONS HERE TODAY

The African Methodist Episcopal church of Georgia will begin its six-day sessions at Big Bethel A. M. E. church here today. A full program is scheduled to keep the delegates busy during the rest of the week. Tonight the convention delegates will witness presentation of the negro spiritual drama, "Heavenly Bound," under auspices of the Big Bethel choir.

The membership of the state conference will be represented by the largest delegation ever to gather at a similar convention. Among those to attend will be 39 presiding elders, pastors and special lay workers. Bishop W. A. Fountain, head of the A. M. E. church in Georgia, will head the program and will lead institute work by addresses and outlines of programs to be followed.

LOWER SCHOOL FARE OFFERED BY CENTRAL

The Central of Georgia railway will authorize reduced rate round-trip tickets to points where schools are located on any date during the period from August 30 to September 30, 1932, inclusive, at one and one-fourth of one-way fare for the round trip, with sufficient return limit to enable students to return to their home stations at any time prior to June 30, 1933, it was announced Monday.

This arrangement will apply on all lines in the southeast.

Circus at Candler Zoo Nets $700 for Charity

Net results of the benefit circus staged Saturday at the menagerie of Asa G. Candler Jr., by the woman's auxiliary of Scottish Rite hospital for crippled children were announced officially Monday as $700 by Mrs. Joel Chandler Harris Jr., chairman of the auxiliary.

While the returns for the circus fell below expectations, due to a downpour of rain which broke just before the afternoon performance, the proceeds will be devoted to emergency needs of the DeCATur hospital, it was said.

What the Market Did

No. of advances 423; declines 423.

Total issues traded 399,852.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A resumption of the advance in the stock market today, despite a moderate pace of trading, made sweeping headway in the last hour, to the extreme dis-comforture of bears who had expected last week's reaction to carry further.

The market was a dull, somnolent afternoon, with the result that the market was able to retrace most of the ground lost in the sell-off since the peak levels of the recovery were recorded at the middle of last week.

The price average of 30 representative active issues swung up 4 points to 106.35, or 1.7 points higher than last week's close. The advance was perpendicular rise, carrying the price average of 20 carrier issues to within small fraction of last week's peak.

The turnover of 1,905,222 shares, however, was the smallest for a full session in nearly two weeks.

The return appeared to result primarily from a drying up of the recent selling. Important business and financial news was meager, though a report that Hoover's resignation of industrial and financial leaders to Washington for a conference August 26 was viewed optimistically in several quarters.

Wheat was distinctly stimulating to shares. That staple closed about 1 cent a bushel higher, while cotton reached 50 cents a bale, and bar silver recovered slightly.

Bonds made moderate headway in the aggregate, but a number of the reaches reached new highs for the recovery.

The nation's gold stock, as expected, took a sharp jump, reflecting a report that the Federal Reserve bank had increased its holdings of gold to 1,000,000 ounces, the highest level in many months.

The total increase of $28,715,000

above the low level reached in June, was the largest for one day in many months.

Announcement of payment of a dividend on National Distillers in the form of warehouse receipts for whisky failed to provide much bull-ness in that issue.

Case was again a high flyer, rallying 7 points to 63. International Harvests was also strong, American

Telephone was also a feature, up 4-3-4.

In the rails, New York Central rose 3-3-4 in a large turnover, and Manhattan declined 1-1-2.

United States Steel, Sears, Ro-ebinson and Chesapeake & Ohio,

United Aircraft and Westinghouse were among many issues up 2 or more.

Foreign Markets

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON.—Trading on the stock exchange was quiet and prices were somewhat irregular. American shares were markedly higher, following a decline

Saturday, but prices were inclined to fall on hopes of a favorable outcome of the American reconstruction program. The close was firm.

BERLIN.—Traders on the bourse were pleased with the government's energetic stand regarding reparations. The tendency was toward the close.

PARIS.—Bourse closed, Assumption day holiday.
